

TERMS AND CONDITIONS FOR GUTHRIE & RUSHTON WEBSITE:

The access and use of the Guthrie & Rushton website ("the website") is subject to the following terms and conditions:

1. Liability Disclaimer:

- 1.1 All information, content, articles and material published on the website is for general information purposes only. Guthrie & Rushton Attorneys ("the firm") makes no representation or warranties of any kind as to the accuracy, correctness and/or completeness of the information, content, articles and/or material on the website;
- 1.2 While every reasonable precaution has been taken that the website is error free, no warranty or representation is given that any downloads or access to the website will be free of viruses, worms, trojans or similar devices that may affect or corrupt your system.

2. General information:

- 2.1 The information, content, articles and material placed on the website is made available to you for general reading purposes only. The information, content, articles and material does not constitute legal advice and any use of or reliance based on it is done so at your own risk. We strongly suggest that before you make use of any of our information that you consult with us or with your own legal attorney;
- 2.2 The firm shall, in no way, be liable for any damages to you suffered directly or indirectly as a result of or connected to the access and use of the website and its information.

3. Privacy:

We hereby confirm that we will maintain as private and confidential all information supplied to us by you. Any information that we do collect will be used for internal purposes only and will not be made available or sold to any third party.

4. Applicable Law:

This website and its terms and conditions as well as its use shall be governed by the Laws of the Republic of South Africa and do hereby consent to the jurisdiction of the High Court of the Republic of South Africa (Cape of Good Hope Provincial Division) in the event of any disputes arising in respect of this website and/or any of its content, material, information etc.

5. Copyright:

5.1 All content, information, articles, material, text, graphics, images, buttons, audio-clips, software, hardware, database, design and development code is the property of the firm and protected by South African and International Copyright Law.

5.2 Subject to the above, the firm hereby grants you the right to access the website, view and download any of its content information, articles, material, etc. provided that the information is used for general research or general reading purposes and is not used for commercial gain. Any reproduction of the information must state clearly that such information has been provided by and is the property of the firm.

6. Breach:

Should you breach any one or more of the terms and conditions of this website, the firm reserves the right to pursue all legal action against you together with the appropriate relief. Any failure to enforce any right by the firm shall not constitute a waiver thereof by the firm.